Mental Health Literacy

What Do These Words Mean?

There is a HUGE difference between the normal ups and downs of life and a mental disorder. Clarity of language is important!

Examples of words that can be used to demonstrate the continuum of mental health states:

- ◆ Mental Distress may be described as feeling apprehensive, concerned or uneasy.
- ◆ Mental Problems may be described as feeling worried, disquieted or perturbed.
- ◆ Anxiety is an example of a Mental Disorder/Illness. We can feel anxious, but saying we have anxiety means that we have been diagnosed by a mental health professional and have a mental illness/disorder.

Good mental health does not mean feeling happy all the time. Being able to cope with the normal stressors of everyday life helps build resiliency and is a sign of good mental health.

Use the right words ... It matters!!
